A PAPER MILL FOR SALE.

THE subscriber offers his Paper Mill for sale, situated twelve miles above Louisville, Kentucky, and three miles from the Ohio river, on Harrod's Creek. This Mill is nearly new and in excellent running order, and in the most healthy part of the State. It has only one Vat and one Rag Engine in operation; but the stream is sufficient to run three engines—and as Louisville is well known to be the best market in the west, for the purchase of rags and the sale of paper, and there being no other mill within less than fifty miles, here is offered a good opportunity for any man to make a fortune. For being determined to leave the State, I will sell a great bargain and give a good title. One half of the purchase money will be required in hand, and a credit of four or five years will be given for the balance, or I will lease the whole for ten years. R. BROWN.

December 6, 1831.—w3m.

NARROWS OF HARPETH.

THE Subscriber will lease, for a term of years, at low rent, the FURNACE and FORGE he is at present building, with a good grist and saw mill attached to each establishment; also, a well regulated TAN YARD, with a tolerable stock of leather and bark. The furnace is situated on Beaver dam, a tributary of Harpeth, 9 miles south west. Immediate permission will be given to the lessee to provide stock, and entire possession when the works are finished, say in three or four months. These works are built on an extended scale, with every convenience for making iron. The subscriber thinks this situation combines more advantages for manufacturing iron, or almost any other description of goods, than any he has a knowledge of; having an unlimited water power at all seasons of the year, and that in perfect safety. It is situated 22 miles west of Nashville, and 8 miles south of Cumberland river. He also believes a mercantile business could be done to advantage. He would lease those works with or without sufficient farms of first quality of land, for their entire supply; together with stocks of cattle and hogs thereon, as well as grain and forage sufficient for the present year's supply, with about five thousand cords of wood on hand. He would also hire his forge and furnace hands, say refiners, chafery men, moulders, keepers, fillers, banksmen, colliers, miners, blacksmiths, carpenters, masons, and wagoners, together with his farming hands and implements of husbandry. He will hire all or any part of those hands the lessee may be disposed to hire. He would also dispose of his ox and mule teams. It is the opinion of judges that have seen this forge, that it has sufficient capacity to make one thousand tons of iron per year, of which the subscriber has no doubt himself; and the quality of the iron made from the contemplated ore bank, is reputed as good as any in commerce. As there is a large surplus power over and above what the present works can possibly make use of, gentlemen disposed to embark in manufactures, say iron, cotton, or wool, would not regret a visit to this extraordinary water power. The situation is perfectly healthy, and abundantly supplied with good spring water. For nearly two years past, I have had from one hundred to one hundred and fifty hands employed at this place, and I am happy to say there has not been a death or even a solitary case of fever.—Much has been said about the general and extreme rise of water in this river. On that subject I can only say, that my mills have been in operation near 18 months, and their operations have never been retarded by high water, and I am confidently of the opinion that machinery may be propelled by overshot wheels and never be retarded by high water. The subscriber has no hesitation in saying, there is no site on the western waters that combines as much power and safety as the one in question. MONTGOMERY BELL.

MOONLIGHT.

There are no stars: thou lonely moon,
Thou art alone amid the sky;
Methinks thou must be sad to hold
Such solitary watch on high!
'Tis but a tale of the old time—
When all of feeling or of thought,
And all the mysteries of the heart,
Around them some fine fiction wrought—
Which said that thou didst turn to earth
Thy radiant eyes, to watch and weep
Over the rest thou couldst not break—
Endymion's haunted passion sleep.
Beneath this moonlight fable's guise,
They pictured the immortal mind,
Which seeks upon this weary earth
The love that it may never find,
For though upon an Eagle's wing
The spirit for a while may roam,
The pinions need some gentle tie,
The heaven-ward wanderer asks a home;
And deems the heart can be that home;
Deems that affection is that tie.
And gives its likeness to that hope—
The pure, the beautiful, the high,
Fair queen, this fable of thy love
Is but the doom Fate sets apart
For earth's imaginative child,
Who makes a temple of the heart.

ST. VALENTINE'S MUSINGS.

"Saw you that bright young creature
With the rosy nectar'd lip,
Which ev'ry laughing feature,
Seem'd inviting me to sip;
Oh she's to grace the Ball to-night,
And mingle in its glee,
And through its mazes of delight
Her hand is pledg'd to me."

Her hand is pledg'd to you, sir!
Pray press it when you may,
Her old gloves press it too, sir,
Which are now thrown away;
And when her feet have flitted
Like a fairy's o'er the floor,
You'll doubtless be permitted
To enact her beau no more.

Her light heart beats too gaily
For a laggard pulse like thine,
That must be quicken'd daily
By the sparkling glow of wine;—
She looks for eyes that brighten,
Like her own, with youthful glee,
And ask no cups to heighten
Their affected gaiety.

Then woo not that bright creature
With the rosy nectar'd lip,
Which not one laughing feature,
E'er will suffer you to sip.
Though she's to grace the Ball to-night,
And share in all its glee,
Her heart's too full of young delight
To pledge itself to thee.

FOREIGN INTELLIGENCE.

From the N. Y. Journal of Commerce, Feb. 20.

SEVEN DAYS LATER FROM FRANCE.

By the ship Albany, Captain Hawkins, we have Paris dates to Jan. 13th, and London to the 11th. The accounts from London are three days later than before received.

The political atmosphere of Europe is becoming unsettled and hazy.

Paris, Jan. 13.—We are informed by dates from London of the 11th inst., that the Cabinet Council has finally agreed upon the number of new Peers to be created, and that it is definitely fixed at 45 or 50. Among others, Lord Dunraven, Lord Gormantown, (an Irish Catholic,) Lord Lismore, and Lord Rosmore, all Irishmen, are mentioned. These nominations are made to allay somewhat the jealousies of the Irish. The rest of the new creation will consist of English Peers and some Scotch ones.

We learn that General Lafayette is much better; he begins to go out.

Stock Exchange.—Half past four o'clock. The market has again been thrown into agitation by the fear of approaching war, principally founded on the article in the English Courier arrived this morning, and the renewal of reports (which, however, are positively contradicted in the ministerial evening papers) of the refusal of Austria to ratify the treaty having been received by the French Government. In consequence of this, the Funds have again declined in price.

Chamber of Peers.—Sitting of January 9.

The President informed the Chamber that he had received letters from thirteen Peers, stating that as they considered they could not be useful in the Chamber after the abolition of the hereditary principal of the Peerage, they begged to tender the resignation of their seats. The following are the names of these Peers: Count d' Arjuzon, Duke d' Avarny, Count Bournonville, Count Lecoulteux de Cantelen, Duke de Duras, Duke de Feliere, Duke de Fitz James, Duke de Larochefoucault, Count de Montesquieu, Count d' Orglandes, Baron de Glandeves, Marquis de Rogue, and Count de St. Suzanne.

The ministerial prints in England continue to assert that the creation of a new batch of Peers will take place.

The London Courier mentions having heard, not for the first time, that a proposal has been made to settle the controversy between Don Miguel and Don Pedro by conference and protocol on the part of the Great Powers. The papers brought by this arrival furnish confirmation, if not of the refusal of Russia and Prussia to ratify the treaty between Belgium and Holland, yet at least of a disposition on their part to consent only to such a ratification as will prove little better than a rejection.

ENGLAND.

From the London Courier of 10th January.

We stated yesterday that a demand had been made that the period fixed for the exchange of ratifications of the treaty of 24 articles should be prolonged. We are now able to add that the prolongation demanded beyond the 15th inst., is at least 15 days.

It is probable, considering the distance between Vienna and Berlin that this prolongation will be granted.

LONDON, Jan. 9.—Our readers will recollect, that, about a fortnight ago, we stated that the influence of Russia had extended to another Great Power, and that serious douhts were entertained of the ratification of the Treaty of Peace between Belgium and Holland, agreed upon by the conference. Circumstances have just occurred to convince us that we were perfectly well informed on the subject, and that if any ratification should arrive either from Prussia or Austria, it will be subject to so many modifications as to render it necessary to go through the whole affair de novo. Indeed, it is confidently stated, that there will be no ratification before the time fixed upon by the Protocol as the latest period, viz. the 15th inst.

With respect to the modifications which are spoken of as the basis upon which Austria and Prussia would be disposed to ratify, it is said that a clause must be added, modifying the 9th article, relative to the navigation of the Dutch waters, rivers, and canals by the Belgians, and that a declaration must be made defining the navigation of the river Meuse, where it passes through the town and fortress of Maestricht, so as to prevent future disputes—the object of these modifications being to respect the rights and dignity of the King of the Netherlands. We hear also that Austria and Prussia decline to guarantee the annual payment by Belgium of the eight millions four hundred thousand guilders as their portion of the interest of the debt, on the ground of such a guarantee implying a doubt of the integrity of King Leopold. Should these modifications be adopted, an extension of time must take place to enable the parties to complete the Treaty, or rather the Convention, for such would be its new charter.—Courier.

We hear, not for the first time, that a proposal has been made to settle the affairs of Portugal by Conference and Protocol on the part of the Great Powers.—Ibid.

The Lord Chancellor has been confined to Brougham Hall with a slight attack of English cholera.—Globe.

The following is the report of the Cholera received to-day, dated Jan. 8.—Newcastle: New cases 29, recovered 24, died 9, remaining 99. Gateshead: New cases 7, recovered 3, died 2, remaining 37. North Shields and Tynemouth, 1 new case, recovered 2, no deaths, remaining 10.—Houghton, &c.: New cases 4, recovered 2, no deaths, remaining 11. Haddington: 1 new case, recovered 2, died 2, remaining 12.

The following is the two days report of the cholera cases received to day, dated Jan. 9:—Sunderland: New cases 0, recovered 1, died 1. Newcastle: New cases 66, recovered 64, died 19. Gateshead: New cases 14, recovered 51, died 14. North Shields and Tynemouth: New cases 2, recovered 1, no deaths.—Houghton, Hilton, &c.: New cases 10, recovered 7, died 4, remaining ill 20. Haddington and vicinity: New cases 13, recovered 3, died 4.—Globe.

"STOCK EXCHANGE, Jan. 10, 12 o'clock.—The closing price yesterday, 83 5-8, was the opening price to-day, since which they have declined, and are now 83 13-43, but without any political news or rumors. In the foreign market there appears a general heaviness, with but little doing.

Three o'clock.—Consols are 83 11-34.

"London, Jan. 10.—There has not been so much real stir in the political circles for several years past as within the last few days. Cabinet couriers have been crossing and re-crossing the Channel, and flying about in all directions, in a very unusual manner. There must be something very important in hand to occasion all this bustle. Several cabinet couriers went across the Channel on Saturday, and five more followed on Sunday.—Indeed so urgent were the despatches of Prince Lieven, that on Saturday the Russian messenger crossed the channel with them in an open boat; and yesterday another Russian messenger followed.—Messengers from the Austrian, Prussian and French Embassies, also went over yesterday. In the mean time, all is bustle at the Stock Exchange—nothing but reports of war's alarms; also, that Casimir Perier had resigned, or was going to resign. It is said that the French government have also taken the alarm, and will not any longer be trifled with by the intrigues of the Northern Courts. The conferences at Paris between the diplomatic corps have been, it is known, within a few days, more frequent than ever. All this indicates that important negotiations are on the tapis with the various courts, which at present appear in a convulsed state. Russia, during the winter, will act with a high hand, and try to bully the other northern powers into her views, which no doubt France foresees.—Sun.

Designs of Russia.—The Augsburg Gazette of the 5th inst. contains the following from the frontiers of Poland:

"The Russian troops stationed in Poland, are receiving reinforcements from all sides; one train of artillery is already on the road from Moscow, and another is preparing. The army is also considerably augmented by the changes made in the military colonies. The reason for this accumulation of forces in Poland are not avowed, but they naturally create surmises that important projects are in contemplation. Russian officers who no doubt are not allowed to penetrate into the secret intentions of the Emperor, say, that they have cut off an arm of the revolution in Poland, and they are now about to attack its head. Poland itself cannot require an army so extensive, for she is cast down, and the men of energy who brought on the revolution, and all the misfortunes consequent on its failure, are now scattered abroad in foreign countries."

A letter from St. Petersburgh of the 11th ult. states that part of the Imperial Ukase which gave a retroactive effect to the new Entrance Duties, has been revoked. The 12 per cent. levied upon the merchandise specified in it, and the augmentations upon other goods created by the new Tariff are not to be levied upon importations made before the commencement of the present year.

TURKEY AND EGYPT.

VENICE, Dec. 23.—"Letters from Alexandria confirm the accounts of the complete rupture between the Pacha of Egypt and the Porte. Before the Viceroy passed the frontiers of Syria, he assembled a numerous divan, and represented in a long speech that the Ottoman empire and the religion of Mahomet were hastening to ruin under the present Sultan, who, in the space of ten years, by his faults, had lost Wallachia, Moldavia, Greece, and so many other fine provinces in Asia and Africa, and who had ordered Ibrahim, the son of the Pacha, to quit the Morea, conquered by him. He thence concluded that the Sultan was incapable of governing, and declared himself ready to march at their head for the defence of religion and the empire. The members of the divan were touched to tears, and the Viceroy was obliged to let the Minister finish his speech. The assembly acceded with enthusiasm to all the proposals made by the Viceroy, and declared itself prepared for any sacrifices. It was inferred from this that the Viceroy aimed at the dethronement of the Sultan, but this is not probable. The Viceroy only declares himself the protector of religion, to ward off the anathema which the Sultan may launch forth against him. Proclamations have already been circulated in Syria in that spirit.—He will not refuse peace, if his independence be recognized. At Alexandria the armaments continue, and the exportation of corn is still prohibited."

CONSTANTINOPLE, Dec. 10.—The news from Syria forms the universal topic of discussion here. Ibrahim Pacha has gained possession of Gaza, Jaffa, and Caiffa, without meeting with any resistance. His advanced guard was near St. John's Acre. The Porte cannot yet be induced to believe that the Viceroy intends to throw off his duty to his Sovereign, at least it is attempted to make the people believe that his expedition has no other object than the satisfaction of the private animosity of the Viceroy against the Pacha of Syria, Abdallah. A very severe firman has been published, calling upon both the Pachas to return to their obedience to the Sultan. The late intelligence from Egypt, however, proves that the situation of affairs is in reality very different, and that the Pacha is prepared for a long and obstinate contest with the Porte, and the preparations on this side are not less serious. The armies are augmented, and the fleet is fitting out, and will be ready to sail in March. Should it not be employed to convey troops, it will at least serve to blockade the coasts of Egypt. The Grand Vizier, after reducing Scutari, retired to Monastiz, and it appears that all military operations have ceased for the season. The campaign in Bosnia will not commence till the spring.

The following is extracted, from a letter, dated Trieste, 28th Dec.—"A part of the Viceroy's squadron is arrived at Tripoli, while his army is making its approaches towards St. John d'Acre. We expect to receive, very shortly, some interesting accounts from that quarter, and the seat of the Sultan will be shaken if the ambitious Mahomet Ali obtains success. It is asserted that he has secret alliances with several Pachas, who urge him to advance upon Constantinople, and seize upon the sovereignty after he has conquered Syria. Mehemit Ali is apprehensive that the Porte may make some covert attempt upon his life, and therefore he surrounds himself constantly by persons upon whom he can rely."

The supervisor of the Juniata division of the Pennsylvania Canal states, that it has received no injury of any consequence during the late freshets. The water was to be let in at the Aughwick Dam on Saturday last.—Phil. Gaz. of Feb. 21.

The Fitchburgh Gazette states that a physician in a neighboring town, was at great pains lately to procure the necessary materials, and went the rounds to vaccinate the children of his patrons, giving them strict injunctions not to scratch when their arms were sore. In a few days the disposition of the children to scratch was irresistible, and it was found that they had been innoculated with the Itch!

From the National Gazette.

The only instance in which the Asiatic Cholera has visited any of our ships of war was at Manilla, in 1820. The Congress Frigate came to anchor there for a few days during its prevalence, and afterwards lost a good many of the crew. The following letter from Dr. Edwards, an intelligent Surgeon of the Navy who was on board that ship, to his friend Dr. Morgan, gives a brief account of it. The official communications of our Navy Surgeons, however valuable, are seldom noticed or appreciated, for want of a Surgeon General of the Navy at Washington to take care of them, and make the department acquainted with the probable utility of their suggestions. If such had been the case, the life of the gallant and illustrious Perry might probably have been saved to his country which he so nobly defended, instead of sending him three hundred miles up the Oronoko under a tropical sun in the months of July and August, 1819.

Dear Sir—In compliance with your request, I send you a concise account of the Spasmodic Cholera, as I saw it in the U. S. Frigate Congress, in 1820. My Medical Journal having been lent to a friend after my return, and lost, I am compelled to give it principally from recollection.

In November, 1820, the Congress left the mouth of Canton River for Manilla. We had lost during the preceding year a number of men on that station, with tropical Dysentery, but no case of Cholera had occured. It had by this time reached as far as Manilla, and had raged for two months with dreadful violence.

To the natives who composed the great mass of the population, it was more particularly fatal. So much so, that they accused the foreign residents there of having poisoned the air and water in order to destroy them and obtain possession of their country. Between ten and fifteen thousand of the inhabitants it was thought had perished within two months. The cruel massacre of all foreigners there is well known.

The Congress anchored at Manilla on the 30th Nov. 1820, at a distance of about 3 or 4 miles from the town.

The prevailing winds were from the land. Many of the officers and boats' crews went daily on shore, and the idea of contagion had been generally abandoned. Instances were related to us, of the natives having, in the violence of their rage against strangers, taken Europeans who were well, and confined them for hours in contact with the dying, in order to communicate to them the disease, and, as they supposed, relieve the sick.—From other barbarities which they committed, this does not seem improbable; but even that expedient and all others, failed to establish the opinion of its contagious nature.

Its appearance at Manilla had been preceded by a gale, and an inundation of the low land by the sea, which had left, upon retiring, a great quantity of slimy matter and animalcules on the waste lands along the shore, near the city. By the exposure of these to the sun, the atmosphere was sensibly vitiated, and occasioned, in some instances, a sensation of nausea in respiration, so that officers who extended their walks far, were obliged to return and go on board. The night air at this season was humid and chilly.

The disease, we were told, had been much more prevalent in the suburbs than within the walls of the city.

The first case which occurred in the Congress, was on the 2d of December. R. Dunn, seaman, 50 years of age, had not been on shore—had long been ill with dysentery—suddenly became much worse—was seized with vomiting, and spasms of the muscles of the toes—these gradually extended to the larger muscles of the lower extremities, and finally became general.

His pulse sunk rapidly, and in a few hours the spasms and vomitings ceased. He was then greatly exhausted, and nothing relieved his debility.—He very soon expired.

Our next case was on the 3d December. The coxswain of a boat, a strong, healthy man, was taken with a burning pain in the epigastrium, insatiable thirst, and, at intervals of about half an hour, severe vomitings and dejections. The discharge from the stomach was the thin fluid so frequently described. These were accompanied by violent contractions of the muscles of the feet, legs and thighs, which soon extended to other parts. The intervals of relief only lasted for a short time, and the violence of the disease about six hours. The patient was then left free from pain, but extremely exhausted, like one in the last stage of typhus fever, and survived but a few hours.

On the 4th, another case occurred, and in the evening we weighed anchor and came to in the mouth of the harbor.

Early on the morning of the 5th we put to sea, and in the course of the day had six cases of the very worst character. The boatswain and three others lived but a few hours; two survived till next day. On examination, after death, we found in the upper intestines a pale watery fluid and a light cream colored substance of the consistence of coagulum. No bile was poured out into the duodenum, which, with the adjacent parts, seemed much inflamed; numerous small red vessels were apparent, as if filled by a fine injection. The gall bladder in one case was filled with a fluid resembling molasses. The liver and venous system were surcharged with blood, thin and very dark, and in no case coagulated. The claims of the sick to our attention called for all our time, and we could not make so many nor such minute investigations as were desirable. Several who were sick of other complaints, and who were slightly affected with mercury, escaped an attack.

Some fatal cases occurred daily until the 9th, when it abated and became much milder. From this to the 16th we lost but two men.

After crossing the China sea, and coming in sight of the low and marshy coast of Sumatra to pass the narrow Strait of Banca, we met with frequent calms, heavy dews at night, and morning fogs. Here the Cholera returned with its former malignity, nor did it leave us until some days after we had passed the Straits. We boarded the Dutch squadron in the mouth of Palambang River, and were told they had also suffered much by the Cholera. The worst cases we had were those that happened immediately after leaving Manilla and about the Straits of Banca. During the month of December we lost upwards of thirty men.

Of forty officers in the ward-room and gun-room, only one (a midshipman) had the disease, and he but mildly.

With regard to the etiology of the disease, no facts came to our knowledge which favoured the supposition of its contagiousness. To us it seemed as much an atmospheric disease as yellow fever or influenza. Whether the cause operates primarily on the blood or the nerves it would be in the present state of our knowledge fruitless to conjecture.

The symptoms were: 1st, numbness of the extremities—2d, vertigo—3d, pain in the epigastrium—4th, hollow eye and shrunken features of the face—5th, spasms—6th, vomitings and dejections—7th, great prostration of strength—8th, cold extremities and loss of pulse—9th, dark, livid skin, and cold clammy sweats.

In the case of John Brown, who died the day after we passed the straits of Banca, on the 20th December, every muscle seemed contracted to the utmost degree and did not relax during a whole day, although opium, &c. were exhibited in every way and in the most liberal quantity. The muscles were drawn into hard knots, and twitchings were observed in them, until putrefaction commenced, and his messmates would not till then be convinced that he was dead.

Respecting the treatment, I have only to say that in most cases we proved the total inefficacy of all the measures and means then and since recommended. It was unquestionably much more unmanageable in Asia than it has as yet been in Europe. We employed stimulants, and anodynes of almost every description and in every variety of doses—bitters, alkalies, warm baths, steam baths, embrocations, frictions, and every revulsive agent. Of these, the most effectual remedy was anodynes in large doses given early and repeated after every paroxysm, and persevered in until the system became tranquilized. If this was effected within a few hours, there were hopes of recovery; if not, nothing availed.

This brief and imperfect account which I have given you, might have been much extended, but I believe uselessly, because it seemed less under the control of medicine than any epidemic with which the annals of diseases have hitherto made us acquainted.

A machine for cutting veneering wood into thin sheets, and of every length, has lately been invented in Russia. It possesses this peculiarity, that instead of cutting the wood from the flat and thick surface, it comes off from its circumference a continuous shaving, the result of which is, that leaves of an indefinite length are produced, agreeably veined and knotted. The construction is simple, combining the advantages of cutting the precious woods without waste, and very rapidly to an extraordinary extent, and so thin that they have been employed for the covering of books, and for lithographic and other engravings. One hundred feet in length of veneering may be cut in three minutes. They begin by placing the timber from which the leaf is to be cut, upon a square axle; when it is revolved and made circular with a turner's gouge.—The blade of a plane of highly tempered steel, and rather longer than the cylinder, is fixed at the extremity of a frame six or seven feet in length, in such a manner as to exert a constant pressure upon the cylinder, and pare off a sheet of equal thickness, which folds upon another cylinder like a roll of linen. The frame to which the blade is attached is moveable at its lower extremity, and as it is changed it depresses in proportion as the mass diminishes in substance. That this depression may be progressive and perfectly regular, the inventor has appended a regulator to the machine, consisting of a flat brass plate, preserved in an inclined position, upon which the frame descends as the regulator itself is advanced. The motion is communicated to the cylinder by means of several cog-wheels, which are turned by a crank.—Bulletin de la Societe d' Encouragement.

Remarkable escape from a Rattlesnake.—A curious incident occurred at this spot to one of our men, named La Course, which was near proving fatal. The man had stretched himself on the ground, after the fatigue of the day, with his head resting on a small package of goods, and quickly fell asleep. While in this situation I passed him, and was almost petrified at seeing a large rattlesnake moving from his side to his left breast. My first impulse was to alarm La Course; but an old Canadian whom I had beckoned to the spot, requested me to make no noise, alleging it would merely cross the body, and go away. He was mistaken; for on reaching the man's left shoulder, the serpent deliberately coiled itself, but did not appear to meditate an attack. Having made signs to several others who joined us, it was determined that two men should advance a little in front, to divert the attention of the snake, while one should approach La Course behind, and with a long stick endeavor to remove it from his body. The snake, on observing the men advance in front, instantly raised its head, darted out its forked tongue, and shook its rattles; all indications of anger. Every one was now in a state of agitation as to the fate of poor La Course, who still lay slumbering, unconscious of his danger; when the man behind, who had procured a stick seven feet in length, suddenly placed it upwards of ten feet from the man's body. A shout of joy was the first intimation La Course received of his wonderful escape, while in the mean time the man with the stick pursued the snake, which he killed. A general search was then commenced about the encampment, and under several rocks we found about fifty of them, all of which we destroyed. They have a strong repugnance to the smell of tobacco, in consequence of which we opened a bale of it, and strewed a quantity of loose leaves about the tents, by which means we avoided their visits during the night.—Adventures on the Columbia River.

Free Negroes, &c.—The bill for deporting Free Negroes, has at length assumed a shape which seems to be acceptable to a majorty, and which enables us to predict with certainty, its passage through the House of Delegates—and probably, the Senate also.

Under the judicious and discriminating instructions proposed by Mr. Miller, of Powhatan, and accepted by the House, the Select Committee, a few days ago, reported a substitute, which was yesterday amended in various particulars, and ordered to be engrossed. This substitute excludes coercion, except as to those Free Negroes who remain in the State, contrary to the law of 1806 (a numerous class) and NEXT GUBERNATORIAL ELECTION.—By an extract from the Harrisburgh Chronicle of the 23d instant, it will be seen that the anti-masonic convention have nominated Joseph Ritner as a candidate for the highest office in our state. Mr. Shulze, we presume, is hardly viewed seriously as a candidate, the contest will therefore be between George Wolf and Joseph Ritner, unless a Clay candidate should be hereafter brought into the field. In West Pennsylvania, Mr. Ritner will undoubtedly receive a large vote.

PENNSYLVANIA AND OHIO RAIL ROAD.—We invite the attention of our readers to the remarks of the editor of the Steubenville Herald, upon this subject. Steubenville is entirely off the line of the proposed rail road, and the opinions of the shrewd, intelligent editor of the Herald may be relied upon as those of a disinterested and competent judge.

On Friday and Saturday, the 17th and 18th of February, there arrived at Baltimore, by the Rail Road, 141 wagons, with

1,615 bbls. of Flour;
12 tons of Iron;
57 do Granite;
121 do Wood;

Besides various other articles.

Mr. Riddell will deliver the lecture which was intended for last Saturday evening, (but which was necessarily deferred,) this evening, at Mr. Beate's long room, at half past seven o'clock, at which time the ladies and gentlemen of this city are invited to attend.

The errors which occurred in the advertisement, in our paper of Friday, were the errors of the compositor.

We have been informed that a project for the formation of a district, for the election of members of Congress, to consist of the counties of Allegheny, Westmoreland, and Armstrong, has recently been started at Harrisburgh, by a gentleman whose name is known, and will be divulged at a proper time. Our intention, at present, is merely to give our readers some idea of the injustice and monstrousness of this scheme. When it was suggested at Harrisburgh, it was supposed the ratio would be fixed at one member of Congress for every 47,700. This would give Pennsylvania 28 members, and a fraction of 12,472. This fraction, being divided among the 28 districts, would give to each district a fraction of 445. Now, let us see how the Harrisburgh project would operate on the people of Allegheny, Westmoreland, and Armstrong.

Allegheny county has	50,506
Westmoreland	38,400
Armstrong	17,625
	106,531
Two members, at 47,700 each.	95,400
Fraction to this district,	11,131
The total state fraction,	12,472
Deduct fraction in the proposed district,	11,131
	1,341

So that this notable scheme gives to our district a fraction exceeding 11,000, and to the other 26 districts a fraction a little exceeding 1,000. In our three counties, we would have one member for every 53,265 persons, and in the other parts of the State, one member for every 47,751 persons. To exhibit the iniquity of this project still more clearly, it is only necessary to remind our readers that at the ratio of 47,700, Allegheny would, by herself, be entitled to one member, and a fraction of only 2,806; being just one fourth of the fraction thrown upon the proposed double district.

Rail Road from Pittsburgh to Massillon.

Our readers have already been advised that it has been in contemplation to incorporate a Rail Road from Pittsburgh, by the way of the valley of Little Beaver, through New Lisbon and Canton, to the Ohio canal at the town of Massillon. This route was last season examined and surveyed by a competent Engineer, under the direction of a committee appointed by the citizens of the towns named, and was not only found perfectly practicable, but also shorter than any other route proposed.—The following is the concluding part of the Report made by the Engineer, (Lt. O. M. Mitchell,) to the Pennsylvania and Ohio Rail Road Company:

"In no instance has the grade been allowed to exceed the limit of 32 feet per mile; which presents no obstacles to the transportation of a given load by the same power from one extremity of the route to other. The curves which have been adopted have in no instance a radius less than one thousand feet, which will admit the uninterrupted velocity of locomotive engines. In so general a report, none but general estimates of expense can be expected; and as these must vary according to the different modes of construction adopted, I shall here only state that the average cost per mile, upon the whole distance, may be made to vary from 18 to 20 thousand dollars. In conclusion, I may remark, that the route is one of at least ordinary practicability. The whole distance from Pittsburgh to the Ohio Canal is less than one hundred and eight miles; from whence it appears our route is remarkably direct. Taking into consideration the immense advantages which must flow from such a connection, and the rich and fertile country through which it passes, we may be warranted in the belief, that stock here invested must prove as productive as any upon a route of the same length in any part of the United States."

An act of incorporation was passed by the legislature of Ohio, at the late session, for a company to construct the said road, under the name of the 'Pennsylvania and Ohio Rail Road Company,' and the same is now before the legislature of Pennsylvania for its sanction. It is believed there will be little or no difficulty in procuring the subscription of the stock in Philadelphia, Pittsburgh, and on the line of the rail road.

This improvement will be a most important one for the counties through which it is to be made, and no less so for the commercial interests of those cities. It will turn almost all, the entire trade of our canal for at least one hundred miles of its length, into Pennsylvania, and thus add immensely to the receipt of tolls on her great canal. To the town of Massillon, already an important point on the Ohio canal, it must be peculiarly beneficial. That town, we have no doubt, is destined to be the Rochester of Ohio.

Although our town is out of the way of such improvements, it gives us much pleasure to note the bright prospects of other places. We have the Ohio river on our borders, and a healthful and productive section of country around us; with these we ought to be contented. No improvement can be made, pointing toward the river, that we shall not feel the benefit of.

Great Flood.—The Ohio river has swollen to a height altogether without a precedent. The town of Aberdeen, on the opposite shore, is partially inundated, and many of the citizens have been compelled to seek safety with their neighbors who occupy higher ground. In Maysville, owing to the height of the bank, but partial injury has been sustained. On Monday, the river presented a melancholy evidence of the destruction of property caused by the freshet. One or two dwelling houses and several stables, greatly wrecked, with a large number of hay stacks, and some oat and wheat stacks, were mingled with the immense mass of floating rails, saw logs, plank, &c. &c. with which the southern side of the river was constantly lined through the day. On Tuesday, several dwelling houses floated past, and we learn that one, containing a large amount of furniture, was towed into a safe harbor about two miles above. The river is now higher, by several feet, than ever before known, and it is doubtful whether the water has yet reached its acme. Most of the towns on the Ohio, it is believed, are partially or wholly inundated. The loss of property, and the amount of individual suffering, are altogether incalculable.

Thursday morning, 10 o'clock.—The river is now about four feet higher than during the memorable flood of 1815—and what is most alarming, is still rising. The bottom on which Maysville is situated, is supposed to be from 10 to 15 feet higher than the sites of the majority of the river towns—and here, the water now covers the lower part of the line of Front or Water street; and many of the citizens who occupy less elevated situations, have been compelled to abandon their dwellings. A part of the town of Aberdeen is almost entirely submerged, the roofs of the houses alone being above water.—Maysville Eagle.

Cincinnati, Thursday, Feb 16, 12 o'clock, M.

GREAT FRESHET.

The rise in the Ohio river is greater than ever before known. Its ordinary rise in the spring is between twenty and thirty feet. It is now presumed to be about sixty feet above low water mark, and is still rising at the rate of three quarters of an inch an hour. Individual distress is extreme, and the destruction of property immense. The whole of the lower part of the city, extending from the bank of the river several squares back, is under water, three four, six, and some parts eight or ten feet deep. Hundreds of families were driven into the second stories of their houses on Sunday night last. By Tuesday, the water had reached to the second stories, and compelled them to fly to the upper part of the city. In many cases it was found impossible to save their household goods.—Many families who, on Tuesday and Wednesday, were apparently safe in the second stories, were compelled to-day to retreat before the all-potent element: and our city now exhibits such a scene of wretchedness and desolation, as is but seldom witnessed in times of peace. Committees have been appointed in the several wards to provide for the distressed, but the number of such is so great, that immediate relief to all appears next to impossible, and many are wandering about the streets barefoot, and otherwise but thinly clad. We have heard of but three or four deaths—it is probable the number is much larger.

Half past 3 o'clock, P. M.—Since half past 11, this morning, (four hours) the water has risen three inches, and is still rising at the same rate.—Mirror.

From the Cincinnati Daily Gazette of Feb. 17.

THE RIVER.

The desolation occasioned by the late extraordinary rise in the river, cannot be so described as to be fully comprehended. All that part of our city that lies between the river and Columbia street, and for half the space between Columbia and Third streets is submerged. For the whole distance from Deercreek to Millcreek, extending back for two or three squares, every thing is under water. Last evening, when our paper was made up for the press, the rise continued, but was somewhat abated.

We have been apprised of the death of two individuals by drowning. Many houses have floated away; and also an immense amount of property, in lumber, wood, rails, &c. The bridge over Millcreek has floated off. It seems useless, at present, to speculate upon the extent of loss. One thing is certain; since the settlement of the country, nothing so destructive has occurred in the valley of the Mississippi. From Pittsburgh to New Orleans must be one continued scene of desolation.

Our information is, that the water had began to fall above, so that no great additional rise is to be apprehended. In this city, it is supposed to be from 12 to 15 inches higher than it was ever known before, being 61 feet 5 inches above low water mark.

February 18.

During the twenty four hours previous to last evening at 6 o'clock, the Ohio river had risen about one foot, and continued to rise when our paper was put to press. We learn from the clerk of the Caledonia, arrived yesterday from New Orleans, that the first rise they met with was from the Ohio.

Abstract of Congressional Proceedings.

The following notice of the proceedings of Congress, on the 15th instant, was accidentally omitted in our last paper:

In the Senate, the resolution submitted on Monday, by Mr. Benton, directing the Secretary of the Treasury to inform the Senate, whether the orders issued by the United States Bank, are received by the revenue officers, and by whose order, was agreed to. The joint resolution from the House, laid on the table on Monday, inviting Mr. Carroll and others to attend the ceremonies of the 22d, was, on motion of Mr. Forsyth, taken up, and after some discussion, the following substitute, offered by Mr. Forsyth, was adopted:

Resolved, That the President of the U. S. be requested to superintend the deposit of the remains of George Washington, in the place which has been selected for that purpose, on the 22d Feb., inst.

Mr. Clay's resolution was taken up, and Mr. Grundy spoke in opposition to it about two hours, when, not having concluded, he gave way to a motion for adjournment.

In the House of Representatives, Mr. Washington, from the Committee on the District of Columbia, reported a bill to provide for the improvement of Pennsylvania Avenue, supplying the Public Buildings with water, and for flagging the Public Walks westwardly of the Capital. Mr. Polk, from the Select Committee, to whom was recommitted the bill for the Apportionment of Representatives, with instructions to fix the ratio at 47,700, made a report in obedience to an order of the House. Mr. Carson moved to amend the amendment by substituting 44,200 for 47,700. Mr. Slade proposed 46,400, Mr. L. Condict 44,500, Mr. Vance 47,000, 48,500, and 55,000, Mr. Kerr 44,999, Mr. Howard 42,000, Mr. Hunt 46,500, and Mr. Rencher 53,000. These propositions were severally rejected by large majorities. The question was then taken on concurring in the report of the Committee, which was decided in the affirmative.—Yeas 119, Nays 75. The other parts of the bill were then made to conform to the ratio of 47,700; and the bill was ordered to be engrossed for a third reading.

Proceedings of the 16th appeared in our last.

February 17.—In the Senate, the bill for the apportionment of the representatives among the States, according to the fifth census, was read the second time, and after a discussion with regard to its reference, in which Messrs. Webster, Hayne, Poindexter, Grundy, and Buckner, took part, was referred to a select committee, chosen by ballot, consisting of Messrs. Webster, Buckner, Hayne, Marcy, Tipton, Dallas, and Forsyth. The consideration of the Tariff was resumed, and Mr. Ewing, of Ohio, who had the floor, occupied it the balance of the day, in favor of Mr. Clay's resolution. Mr. Ewing had not finished his speech, when the Senate adjourned over to Monday.

In the House of Representatives, Mr. Branch, from the Committee on Naval Affairs, reported a bill for the regulation of the navy, and privateer Pension and Navy Hospital Funds, which was read a first and second time, and committed to a Committee of the Whole on the state of the Union. Numerous private and local bills were reported and committed, and the resolution from the Committee on the Public Buildings, for the painting, by Mr. Vanderlyn, of a portrait of Washington, for the Hall of the House, was considered and agreed to. Mr. Blair, of Tennessee, from the Committee on Internal Improvements, reported a bill for the construction of a national road from Portsmouth, in Ohio, to a point South of the Lynville Mountain, in N. Carolina, which was read twice and committed to a Committee of the Whole. The bill for the adjustment and payment of the South Carolina Claims, which was read a third time and passed without a division. The House then took up the appropriation bills which had been passed through a committee on the preceding day, and upon the Naval bill Mr. Pearce moved an amendment to strike out the clause appropriating 72,000 dollars for the Navy Yard at Brooklyn, New York, on the ground that the facilities of navigation and the protection of commerce required its location at Newport, Rhode Island. Mr. Verplanok, Mr. Cambreleng, and Mr. White, of New York, followed and enforced the great advantages of New York as a naval station and a depot for seamen. The proposition was finally negatived without a division, and the bill passed, as also were the other appropriation bills and the naval arrearage bill. Mr. Barbour, of Virginia, gave notice that he should, on Thursday, call up the Virginia Claims bill. At half past 4 o'clock the House adjourned.

Feb. 18.—The Senate did not sit.

In the House of Representatives, the resolution from the Committee on the Public Buildings, for the execution of a marble statue of Washington, to be placed in the Rotunda of the Capitol, was taken, and passed by a vote of 114, noes 50. Various private bills were reported and acted on, after which, the House, on motion of Mr. Carson, went into a Committee of the Whole, Mr. Speight in the chair, upon the bill to compensate Mrs. Decatur for the destruction, by the gallant Commodore Decatur, of the frigate Philadelphia, in the harbor of Tripoli. The consideration of this well known case, occupied the House during the residue of the sitting. The bill appropriates the sum of 100,000 dollars for this purpose, and provides for its distribution among Mrs. Decatur, the widow of Commodore Preble, and the officers and crew of the United States schooner Intrepid, or their legal representatives. Mr. Carson addressed the Committee in support of the bill, and Mr. Tracy proposed an amendment to distribute the sum according to the provisions of the prize law, but the amendment was negatived. Mr. Pearce moved a further amendment, that $10,000 of the $31,000 allotted in the bill to Mrs. Decatur, should be paid to the neices of Commodore Decatur. Upon this a long discussion ensued. Before any decision was arrived at, however, the committee rose and reported, and the House adjourned.

Monday, Feb. 20.—In the Senate, Mr. Ewing concluded his speech on the tariff, in favor of Mr. Clay's resolution and the protective system. The appropriation bills, from the House, for fortifications, for Revolutionary and other pensioners, for the naval service, and for naval arrearages, were read twice, and, on motion of Mr. Smith, referred to the Committee on Finance. The bill from the House, providing for the settlement of the claims of the State of South Carolina against the United States, was also read twice, and, on motion of Mr. Miller, referred to the Committee on Military Affairs.

In the House of Representatives, Mr. Everett, of Mass. presented a memorial from J. J. Audubon, the distinguished naturalist, praying that his history of American birds may be imported free of duty. A variety of other memorials and petitions were presented; and several resolutions on the subject of private claims, were introduced. The acts of incorporation of the Bank of the United States, and charter of the old bank, were on motion of Mr. Thomson, of Ohio, ordered to be printed. Mr. Thomas, of Louisiana, submitted a joint resolution directing an adjournment from this day until Thursday, in honor of the centennial birth day of Washington, which was read a first, second and third time, and passed. Four engrossed bills were read a 3d time and passed; and the bill to define the qualification of voters in the Territory of Arkansas, was ordered to be engrossed. The bill on the subject of relieving certain insolvent debtors of the United States, occupied the attention of the House during the remainder of the sitting.

The Anti-Masonic State Convention—met in this place yesterday, in considerable force—there being about 105 delegates present, and organised by appointing Ner Middleswarth, of Union county, President—two Vice Presidents and Secretaries. On this morning they nominated JOSEPH RITNER, for Governor, and in the course of the day will report an electoral ticket. It is supposed they will adjourn this afternoon. Their proceedings will be more fully noticed in our next.—Harrisburgh, Chronicle, February 23.

Our files of Galignani's Messenger, and the Paris Journal des Debats, down to the 13th ultimo, have reached us. We have, also, the Journal du Havre of the 14th. From the general complexion of the French articles, and the proceedings in the Chamber of Deputies, we should infer that the reign of Louis Philippe is likely to be short. The mockery of which he was the subject in the Chamber, is more ominous than invective. His downfal would be the signal for a general war, of which, indeed, the probability seems to have been increased by external circumstances. The London Courier, in reply to an article of the Paris Times, observes that the military strength of Russia, Austria and Prussia was far from being impaired—that in fact, the armies of the two latter powers were never larger nor more finely appointed than at present,—and that France would do better to rely upon her own resources than upon any fallacious calculations of the means of aggression which other countries possess. It is remarked, under the Paris head of the 13th, that the French Government seemed to be reducing its navy, while it augmented and improved its land forces; and this is accounted for by a supposed understanding with Great Britain, whose fleets would suffice for both nations in case of a war. We have marked for republication, various articles of interest in Galignani's Messenger, and the London Morning Chronicle of the first week of last month.—Nat. Gaz.

SECT. 6. And be it further enacted by the authority aforesaid, That the directors of said company shall have full power and authority, at any time, to sell, dispose and transfer all or any of the public or other securities, stocks or evidence of debt, in which the capital stock and funds of the company shall be invested, and the proceeds of any such sale or transfer to re-invest in any securities or stocks as may be deemed expedient. Provided, That nothing herein contained, shall be construed to authorize the said company to use their funds for banking purposes.

SECT. 7. And be it further enacted by the authority aforesaid, That the president and directors of the said corporation, for the time being, shall have power to appoint a secretary, and such officers, agents and clerks, or other persons, as shall be necessary for conducting and executing the business of the said corporation, and to allow them such compensation for their services as they shall deem reasonable; and, generally, to exercise all other powers and authorities for the proper management and direction of the affairs and funds of the said corporation, as may be allowed by this act, or the ordinances of the corporation; and, especially, shall have power to prevent the transfer of any stock, while the holder thereof shall be indebted to the company; and, furthermore, if the holder of any stock, so indebted, shall, after demand upon him for the payment of said debt or any portion thereof, neglect or refuse to pay the same for the space of sixty days, the said directors shall have power to direct the sale of the same at public auction, after two weeks' notice of said sale, in two of the newspapers of the city of Pittsburgh.

SECT. 8. And be it further enacted by the authority aforesaid, That the president and directors shall have full power and authority on behalf of said corporation to make all kinds of insurance against fire, and upon lives; all kinds of insurance upon the inland transportation of goods, wares, and merchandise; all kinds of insurance upon vessels, whether propelled by steam or otherwise, and upon their cargoes; and such other insurances as they may deem expedient; and to loan money upon bottomry and respondentia; and, generally, to make, execute and perfect such contracts, agreements, policies or other instruments as may be necessary, and to transact and perform all matters and things relating to the said objects; and all policies of insurance and other contracts to be made by said company, shall be under the seal of the said corporation, signed by the president, and attested by the secretary or other officer appointed for that purpose. But no policy of insurance shall be effected by the said company, until ten per cent. of the capital stock shall be actually paid in by the stockholders.

SECT. 9. And be it further enacted by the authority aforesaid, That the directors shall, on the first Mondays of January and July, in each year, declare a dividend of so much of the profits of the corporation, as to them shall appear advisable, to be paid to the respective stockholders, agreeably to such regulations as the said directors may adopt; but the money received as premiums on risks which remain undetermined and outstanding at the time of declaring the dividends, respectively, shall not be computed as any part of the profits of said corporation.

SECT. 10. And be it further enacted by the authority aforesaid, That in case any loss shall happen by which the capital stock shall be diminished, no dividend shall be made, until the amount of such diminution shall be supplied and added to the capital; and any president or director who shall declare any dividend contrary to the above prohibition, shall be liable in his individual capacity to the said company for the amount of the stock so divided, and each director present, when such dividend shall be made, shall be adjudged to be consenting thereto, unless he forthwith enter his protest on the minutes of the board, and give public notice thereof to the stockholders at declaring such dividend

SECT. 11. And be it further enacted by the authority aforesaid, That, if at any time it shall appear to the legislature, that the privileges granted by this act, are injurious to the public welfare, the power to repeal this act, is hereby fully reserved; but such repeal shall not affect any of the contracts of the said company, nor their powers to liquidate and settle all their past transactions; and the said company shall be subject to such general laws as the legislature may at any time enact for taxing the insurance companies of this commonwealth.

I certify that the above and foregoing is a true copy of an Act of the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, passed by both branches thereof, during the present session, and returned by the Governor approved and signed. In witness whereof, I have hereunto set my hand, this 15th day of February, 1832.

Pittsburgh, Dec. 9, 1831.—tf

Edgeworth Ladies' Boarding School,

BRADDOCKSFIED, NEAR PITTSBURGH,

Will recommence its engagements on the first Monday of October next.

THE increased and increasing approbation given to this institution cannot fail to produce a corresponding zeal and energy, and a desire to secure a settled good opinion. At this time very many additions have been made, for the convenience, comfort, and well doing of the pupils.—In so large a field as is open for education, understood in its true and extensive sense, there must be room for continual culture. Unabated will be the effort to do the utmost possible to meet so responsible a charge as the care of youth, and to this effort will be added the aid experience brings.—With little observation, in every succeeding month, somewhat is seen to revise and improve.

Edgeworth Seminary has been now of several years standing, and, disclaiming all egotism, it is only the fact to say that experience enables it to offer rather an increase than a diminution of means to give satisfaction.

The health enjoyed by the inmates, and beauty of situation of Braddocksfield Mansion, are well known to visiters, but for information of strangers, it is necessary to state, that in both particulars terms too flattering cannot easily be used.

To instruct, coercive means are not employed—reference is made to the heart as well as the head. Pains are taken to inculcate, that to be great, it is an indispensable to be virtuous; and as the worth of knowledge is only to be estimated by its tendency to right action, the study of every branch, and the proportion of time given to it, will be made subservient and tributary to useful moral and religious improvement.

Sabbath day engagements must not be interrupted unnecessarily. Pupils living at a distance, or from any cause, disposed to make Braddocksfield, during the vacation, their home, are invited to do so, and no additional charge is made.

TERMS.

Admission, Tuition in English branches, viz:—Reading, Writing, Grammar, Composition, Arithmetic, Geography, and Astronomy, with use of Globes, Natural Philosophy, Chemistry, and History; also Plain and Ornamental Needle Work, per annum,	$130

DOCTOR ROBERT'S

☞WELCH MEDICAMENTUM.☜

FOR the cure of Dyspepsia, Liver Complaints, Jaundice, Cholic, Fever and Ague, Dysentery, Headach, Loss of Appetite, Flatulence, Hypochondria, Hysterics, Dropsical Complaints, and Heartburn. It also prevents all Bilious disorders, and removes habitual Costiveness, Asthma, Strangury, Gravel, Rheumatism, Gout, and Impurities of the Blood.

A person who uses this Medicamentum will not require the use of the lancet, or any means of the healing art. It restores and revives the animal spirits, invigorates the system, removes nervous tremors, obtunds rheumatic and anthritic pains, and prevents their return. It cleanses the stomach of all morbid humors, which cause indigestion, acidities, headach, and lowness of spirits; cures all bilious disorders, and all cholics of the stomach and bowels, almost immediately; inspires cheerfulness; gives comfort to the dropsical; takes away palpitation of the heart; gives circulation to the blood; restores bloom to the sallow or sickly cheek, and plumpness to the meagre habit; purges without pain, and banishes all cause of fever of every kind. It acts on the stomach, that great reservoir of the human system, a diseased state of which causes all diseases. No alteration in the usual habits of life is required, but the abstaining from distilled ardent spirits.

CERTIFICATE,

From Rev. Derick Lansing, D. D., Pastor of the Second Presbyterian Church in Utica.

UTICA, Jan. 6, 1830.

To Dr. Hitchcock.—Dear Sir: I have always been one of the number of those who have placed little confidence in nostrums or specifics, and for this reason, although I saw your advertisement of the Welch Medicamentum, I could not bring my mind to consent to use it. My sufferings, from indigestion, during the past summer, were so severe, as materially to affect my comfort, and my capacity for usefulness. I have reason to thank you, sir, that, on hearing of the state of my health, you kindly sent me your Medicamentum. I have taken it faithfully, and with entire success. I have not been visited with one of those turns of distress, which before were weekly periodical, since I began to take your valuable medicine. Could I receive the same relief which I have hitherto experienced, on condition of taking it for life, I should cheerfully comply with such condition. Your's, very truly, D. C. LANSING.

Rights to use the machine in that part of the United States, named above, will be sold by the single county or in larger districts. As it is presumed that no one will purchase without seeing the machine at work, a description of it is deemed unnecessary. Should any person, however, wish to purchase, and find it inconvenient to visit the places where it is in operation, a machine will be furnished, warranted to plane, tongue and groove, and bring to an exact width and thickness, a white pine board of 12 feet long, and of any width from 1 to 14 inches, in one minute and ten seconds, or an oak board of the same dimensions in 2 minutes and 10 seconds. Machines may be seen at work in the cities of New Orleans, Washington, Philadelphia, New York, Boston, and others at the south and east, at Wheeling, Virginia, and at the saw mill of Messrs. Irwin & Herron, in this city.

Persons desiring to purchase will have the certificates of scientific and practical men who have seen it at work, in the different places in which it has been put up, forwarded to them. They give their opinion as to the great value of the invention, state the time they have seen boards dressed by this machine, and describe the quality of the work as compared with that performed by hand labor.

TO THE PUBLIC.

WE wish to caution our friends against an imposition too successfully practised on them, with spurious Nails stamped "JUNIATA."—This caution is deemed necessary from the fact that Nails have been manufactured from inferior Iron, and receive this brand.

An attempt of this kind is calculated to bring into disrepute the JUNIATA IRON, which has been long known to our western friends as an article of the very best quality. We would advise, therefore, in order to defeat this imposition, that the purchaser be governed in his selection by the names of the manufacturers, which will be found marked on the end of each keg of nails, and stamped on each bar of iron.

The undersigned manufacture their Iron from the Ore, and will stand accountable for the quality of the Iron and Nails marked with their stamp.
